TOGETHER!

Date: 15 September 2016
Time: 09.00 - 17.30
Location: STAMI - Statens arbeidsmiljøinstitutt
Gydas vei 8, Majorstuen

The goal of the networking event is to provide an opportunity for nanotechnology stakeholders to meet, share knowledge and establish connections to further advance nanosafety in Norway.

The event is open to anyone working with nanotechnology or interested in advancing nanosafety and can include participants from industry, academia, funding bodies, governmental authorities, non-governmental organisations, media etc.

The event is free to attend and lunch and networking tapas will be provided. There are, however, limited spaces available so participants are requested to register using the link below.

Those without financial support can apply for a scholarship to cover travel and accommodation expenses. Scholarship applications can be made during registration.

The program for the event will involve a mix of short talks from national and international speakers, as well as facilitated interactive discussions.

This event provides the perfect opportunity to meet other actors working with nanotechnology and nanosafety in Norway and to extend your network by connecting with other stakeholder groups.
